Ozone is a high-energy form of oxygen and is called activated oxygen. It is one of nature's basic elements and is part of many natural reactions. Ozone is one of nature's super purifiers and protectors of the environment.

Just as nature uses ozone to protect and renew life on earth, ozone can be applied to the skin so the body can absorb this special form of oxygen to help increase healthy oxygen levels internally as well as helping to protect against harmful microorganisms.

Ozonated olive oil is made using a high-voltage ozone machine which bubbles highly concentrated ozone gas through pure olive oil until it solidifies. This process takes several days of continuous gas flow. The result is a useful strength ointment which looks somewhat like a salve and has the distinctive odor of ozone.
